MEETING OF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE. A REPORT IN REFERENCE TO DUTIES ON SUGAR-

A REPORT IN REFERENCE TO DUTIES ON SUBJECT APPROVING CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

The last meeting of the Chamber of Commerce previous to the summer vacation was held yesterday. James M. Brown, in the absence of President Babcock, presided. The special committee to which was referred ex-Secretary Sherman's letter in regard to the collection of duties on sugar was presented. The report characterized the letter as evasive. The Secretary's statement that it is the duty of the Customs officers to protect both the revenue and the honest importers against fraudulent practices was approved, but the construction put upon the decisions in cases against sugar importers in San Francisco and Baltimore was disputed. The committee concluded that, in view of the existing statutes and the construction of them by the courts, the operation of Mr. Sherman's order made necessary a lawsuit to determine the rate of duty on each importation of the kind of sugar affected by the order.

Frederick A. Conkling made an attack upon the sugar interests, and said: "What is the purpo e of introducing this report at this time? It is well known that the case referred to as decided by Judge Wallace in favor of the plaintiff has been carried to the Supreme Court, where it will be adjudicated in about four years. If it is the desire to manufacture public sentiment in favor of the plaintiffs, it is a repre-hensible measure." APPROVING CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

rears. If it is the desire to make the plaintiffs, it is a representiment in favor of the plaintiffs, it is a representiment in favor of the plaintiffs, it is a represensible measure."

Isaac Phillips, an ex-Appraiser of the Customs service, supported the sugar interests, when Mr. Service, supported the sugar met to a member on the that was paid by the sugar men to a member on the Committee on Ways and Means at Washington, last winter, to prevent legislation on the sugar question? Mr. Phillips said he had never heard of it, and Mr. Conkling replied: "Well, I believe it."

The report was adopted, and a resolution was offered to send copies to Mr. Sherman and to the Presidence of the Cabinet. Mr. Conkling opposed the resolution as boing densive, but it was adopted, be alone vatirs, Realinst it. Thereupon Mr. Conkling, taking up his coat and hat, strade out of the room with an indignant air. One of the members suggested that he ought to resign at once, and then seek to be "vindicated."

Resolutions were adopted declaring that the interests of all doing business with the Custom House demand the continuance and extension of the system of examinations for appointment to places in the Custom House which has been in operation during the last four years, and instructing the Committee on Foreign Commerce and the Revenue to wait upon the new Collector when he assumes his office and urge the importance of this matter.

POINTS IN WHITTAKER'S FAVOR.

Ex-Governor Chamberlain vesterday continued his argument before the Whittaker ourt-martial. The charge that Whittaker by a vigorous effort might have broken the cords by which he was bound. Mr. Chamberlain dismissed as unsupported by any evidence whatever; and he disposed of the assertion that the cadet might have made himself heard through the building by pointing out that he believed the other cadets to be his assailants, and that to call for hel- from cadets when assaulted by cadets would be no better than to appeal from Philip drunk to Philip drunk again. One great difficulty, which seemed to disturb the minds of the prosecution, was that Cadet Whittaker could not tell precisely what portion of his body the hands of his assailants rested upon at the successive moments of attack. But was it likely that anyone, under such conditions, would remember every minute detail after the occurrence was over? It was said again that Cadet Whittaker had contradicted himself, but in what single important particular had he contradicted himself? He had said at the Court of Inquiry, perhaps, that he remembered the appearance of the taper-light held by one of his assailants, and here he averred that he could not now remember whether the light was flickering or steady. Such was the character of his inconsistency, and no one could find a single feature in Cadet Whittaker's story that did not go to show it to be grounded upon an actual occurrence.

story that did not go to show it to be grounded upon an actual occurrence.

One of the most important points to be considered.

Mr. Chamberlain thought, was the total lack of any motive which could inspire such a crime. Even had he been in peril of failing in his examination, physical injuries of so slight a character could not have excused him from meeting it; but so far from being deficient, he was not only not deficient at the time of the tragedy of April 5, but even afterward, amid the daily torture of the Court of Injury, when surrounded by fires as real as any which ever flashed about the martyrs of Smithfield, or Geneva, or Seville, he struggled bravely on until at the end of the month and at the end of the year he was proficient still.

WATER FRONT PRIVILEGES.

At the Dock Commissioners' meeting yesterday petitions were presented from the residents and business men of the Nineteenth Ward, asking that piers be built at Seventieth. Seventy-first, Seventy-fourth, Seventy-fifth, Seventy-sixth, Seventy-seventh and Seventy-eighth-six, East River. G. R. Massey presented a statement setting forth that he first applied to the Park Commissioners for permission to moor a floating bath off the Battery, and then brought the matter before the Dock Commissioners, and asked to be heard in case Mr. Hall made application for similar permission. He stated that Mr. Hall had moored his bath at the Battery, and he desired to know upon what authority the bath was so moored and what action the Board proposed to take in the matter. He was told that the Board had not given permission to Mr. Hall to moor a bath at the Battery. At this Mr. Massey declared that there had been "some underhand work in this affair." His declarations and actions caused considerable amusement.

TIELDING TO DEMANDS FOR MORE PAY.

The strike of the steamship firemen and coal passers was continued to-day with some success on the part of the strikers. The Newport, of Ward's Line, sailed yesterday, a little later than her schedule time, with her old fireroom crew of union men, at the advanced wages of $45 a month for firemen and $35 for coal passers. The City of Alexandria, of Alexandre's Line, the only vessel that sailed besides the Newport, took a crew of non-union firemen, but at the same wages that are demanded by the strikers. It is claimed by the strikers that the firemen and coal-passers who went on the City of Alexandria are incapable of properly running the fires, and that the vessel will be obliged to return to port for more competent men. At Pier No. 16, North River, are five ships of the Ward Line, and it is believed that the crews on them will receive the increase of wages demanded.

Mayor Howell, Controller Semler and Auditor Voorhies, of Brooklyn, yesterday appointed the eight trustees of the East River Bridge, who will represent Brooklyn for the next two years. The terms of Henry C. Murphy, J. S. T. Stranahan, William Marshall, W. C. Kingaley, H. W. Slocum, A. C. Barnes, William Taylor and A. W. Humphries expired yesterday. At the meeting Mayor Howell moved the reappointment of all the trustees whose terms had expired except the last two. For these he substituted Alden S. Swan and Otto Witte. The motion was unanimously carried. Mr. Swan, one of the new trustees is a Democrat, and lives in the Pirat Ward, Mr. Witte is a Republican, living in the Twenty-fourth Ward. He is a banker in this city. BRIDGE TRUSTEES FROM BROOKLYN.

THOROUGHBREDS AT LOW PRICES. A sale of thoroughbred horses from the stables of angust Belmont and P. Lorillard took place yester-tay at the American Horse Exchange (limited), at Broadway and Fiftieth-st. It of thoroughbred stallions, including Blue Mantle, Midlothian, Woodlands, Constitution and others, the property of E. Tottersall, London, were withdrawn, as no bids were received above the upset price. Mr. Belmont sold nine animals, Woodland being withdrawn, for $640. Fourteen animals were sold for Mr. Lorillard, and brought $2,252 50.

THROWING A REPORT OUT OF THE WINDOW.

MEMBERSHIP NOT INCREASED.

A business meeting of the St. Nicholas Society was held at Delmonico's last evening, with the president, Edward F. De Lancey, in the chair. The business consisted solely of the discussion and disposition of certain proposed amendments to sections one, four and five of article two of the Constitution. To aid the members in voting intelligently slips of paper containing these sections and the proposed changes were circulated among those present. The first proposed amendment was to increase the number of members from 500 to 600, the Constitution providing that whenever there are 500 members no one shail be elected to membership unless he be the descendant in the oldest male line of a member or former member. The other changes suggested were to increase the initiation fee from $10 to $20, the annual dues from $5 to $10, and the amount necessary to constitute a life member from $50 to $100. After an animated argument all these amendments were lost.

JOSEPH BAUER'S ASSAILANT FOUND.

Joseph Baner, age seventeen, of No. 666 Ninthave., who was stabled in the abdomen by another boy Wednesday night, is still us a dangerons condition at the disosevelt Hospital. It is said by the surgeon in attendance, however, that he has a fair prospect of recovery. Officer Knox, of the Twenty-second Precinct, met a boy in Forty-sixth-st, yesterday morning whose appearance and actions led him to believe that he knew something about the affair. On being questioned the boy admitted that he had inflicted the wound. His rame is Albert Frankle, a young Hebrew, about sixteen years old, living at No. 340 West Forty-sixth-st. He denied having assaulted Bauer, but his explanation of the circumstances was unsatisfactory. At the hospital he was identified by the injured had as his assailant. He was taken before Justice Wandell, at the Yorkvulle Police Court, by whom he was committed without bail to await the result of Bauer's injury.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL CHILDREN IN LINE.

The June Walk of the children and teachers of the Sunday-schools in the Eastern District of Brooklyn took place yesterday afternoon in Bedford ave. The members of the forty-seven schools assembled in twenty divisions, in as many different churches, at 1:30 p.m. After singing anniversary hymns and listening to addresses, at 2:30 they marched to the fountain in Bedford-ave, at Division-ave. The estimated number of fersons in line was 18,500. All were connected with Sunday-schools except the policemen and musicians. From a reviewing stand near the fountain in Bedford-ave, the parade was viewed by Mayor Howell, Aldermen Le Fine and Buird, and several other invited guests.

PAPAL HONORS FOR NEW-YORK PRIESTS.

Private intelligence received in this city from Rome announces that the Pope has conferred the title of Monseigneur upon the Very Rev. Dr. Quinn, Vicar-General and paster of the new Cathedral in Fifth-ave., and upon the Rev. Dr. Thomas S. Preston, Vicar-General and Chanceller of the Archdiocese of New-York and paster of St. Ann's Church in East Twelfth-st. They have also been made Private Chamberlains of the Pope, and the notification, which comes to them through Cardinal McCloskey, announces that they will shortly be declared Prelati Domestici, or Prelates of the Pontifical Household.

A new feature at Long Beach is the railroad just built, running four miles along the beach from this hotel to the east end of the beach. Here ten cottages and a hotel of sixty rooms are now in progress of construction, and will be ready for occupancy by July 1. Among those who have taken cottages are Conrad N. Jordan, Dr. Charles Bliss, A. A. Marsh, E. L. Frank, W. Olliffe, Edward Schmidt and Charles Timpson. The land at the east end has been leased from the Long Beach Improvement Company, which owns the large hotel and the entire beach, by the Long Beach Construction Company, which has erected the cottages.

TO MANAGERS OF STEAMSHIP LINES.

The prevalence of smallpox in foreign ports has a steerage "bunk." All steerage passengers were kept in quarantine at Hoffman's Island several days for observation.

May 19th inst., a passenger steamship from a port in the British Isles entered Quarantine with 825 steerage passengers, six of whom had smallpox—one case only-was looked. The whole number of steerage passengers, except the sick who were sent to hospital, was removed to Hoffman's Island for observation, during the usual incubation period of the disease.

Notwithstanding the serious inconvenience to all, and the great expense to the owners, this alternative is far better than the admission of a cargo of infected emigrants to the dense population of our cities, and the crowded thoroughfares of the interior.

Better than either, would be such watchfulness and vicilance on the part of medical officers as would secure early and complete Isolation of the sick in hospital rooms that would afford sufficient ventilation and complete to the sick, and opportunity for the complete seclusion of real or suspected cases of contactions discusse. Hospitals should be upon the main deck—never in the crowded steerage. When this is impracticable, they should be so ocated as to include port lights for light and ventilation, instead of a coop or pen hastily built between decks, and in the midst of the steerage with ventilators, which allow the escape of the infectious atmosphere surrounding the patient, among the steerage passengers. Such violations of hydern and common sense will in the future be likely to subject all passengers to quarantine of observations who may be so unfortunate as to have taken passenge on steamships having smallpox on board, with such hospital accommodations as have been described.

Twice daily it should be the duty of the medical officer to visit and inspect every part of the steerage, that all cases may be detected and immediately isolated. Sattifactory evidence of this will save the owners of passengers in quarantine of observations, commercial interests in general not a little embarrassment
